

CLIENT

COMMUNIQUÉ

A NSW Certified Consultant

ON 8 July 2016, EPM attained certification as a provider of Consulting Project Management Services to the NSW Government. This is relevant to our clients because it is an independent endorsement of our experience, capability and systems that follow a rigorous and extensive assessment process. In particular, EPM was required to demonstrate the following to the satisfaction of the NSW Government:

- Our time management capabilities including a track record in meeting deadlines, managing resources, planning and reporting.
- Our management expertise, the capability of our staff including their skills and experience, and the capacity of our business that enables us to maintain a reliable service under pressure.
- Our effectiveness in managing consultants and other suppliers.
- A consistent track record in meeting the project brief, managing within the project budget, providing value for money, minimising re-work, and applying requisite standards of supervision.
- Quality outcomes through quality management including audits, the resolution of non-conformances, and the delivery of appropriate project documentation.
- WHS and environmental outcomes through implementing our third-party accredited systems.
- Cooperative relationships based on teamwork, commitment, issues resolution and communication.
- Demonstrating future work from current and past clients.

These attributes had to be demonstrated through clear evidence of a consistent track record, supported by client references. We therefore also thank our clients who were so willing to support us in this endeavour.

We hope that this endorsement by the NSW Government gives even greater confidence to our valued clients about our absolute determination to achieve great outcomes for their projects.
